City: BILBAO

<http://www.bilbaoturismo.net/BilbaoTurismo/es/turistas>

In the past few decades, Bilbao underwent a radical transformation, turning into one of the most innovative and cosmopolitan cities in Europe.

In the city centre, traditional architecture meets avant-garde design in perfect harmony – a model that has travelled to other cities around the world.

The estuary of the river Nervión is the city's backbone. On its banks you will find some of the icons of Bilbao's industrial past and futuristic present: the Bizkaia Bridge in Portugalete, the stately mansions in Getxo, the port in Santurtzi, and others.

Bilbao is the core of a metropolitan area with more than one million inhabitants. Since its foundation, more than 700 years ago, it has been the fundamental factor and the main socio-economic axis around which the Bizkaia region has set its modernization process in motion.

Region: BISCAY

<http://www.visitbiscay.eus/es/inicio>

It is located in the Basque Country. Its capital, Bilbao, has become a symbol of modern architecture thanks to its avant-garde buildings such as the Guggenheim Bilbao Museum.

Biscay is the most densely populated province in the Basque Country, and has both cities and rural areas which conserve the full flavour of country living. There are also towns in the interior, which are well worth visiting, such as Durango, Orduña or Gernika. Its 150 kilometers of coastline have everything from beaches with golden sand, to cliffs and charming fishing villages.

The coast is also where visitors will find the Hanging Bridge of Vizcaya, awarded the World Heritage designation by the UNESCO, as well as idyllic spaces such as San Juan de Gaztelugatxe and the Urdaibai Biosphere Reserve.

The local gastronomy is strongly influenced by its proximity to the sea. Particular delicacies include the "pintxos" (delicious miniature dishes) and recipes such as cod à la vizcaína or grilled butterflied sea bream.

Basque Country (Identity):

Basque people have strong ties to the land and the sea – the two elements that have forged their unique identity, based on strongly held customs and traditions, an out-of-this-world cuisine, a series of traditional rural sports and the rhythm of folk dance and music.
